EXPERTS ACHIEVE GOAL THEY SOUGHT, REPORT SHOWS

Committee's Findings Will Be Presented to Reparation Commission Tomorrow—Attain Objects Without Passing Beyond Limits Set For Them.

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, April 8.—Brigadier General Dawes and his fellow reparation experts seem to have attained the objects at which they aimed, declares Le Matin in presenting a summary of the committee's forthcoming report, which is reported as authoritative.

They achieved this, the newspaper adds, without passing beyond the limits set for them—that is, without raising the political problem of the occupation of the Ruhr or trying to determine the amount of German debt, since if the Dawes report gives exact details on the amount of the yearly payment, which may be expected from the Reich in its war fixer the number of these annuities, at least as regards the part which depends on the budget surplus of the Reich.

The reports provides mainly, according to Le Matin that Germany shall receive no moratorium, a temporary concession will be made of her railroads a mortgagel placed on her industries and a bureau established to govern the transfer of money from the country in such a manner as to distort the exchange market as little as possible. Her annual payments would be tapered upward to keep pace with her economic recovery and financial ability.

If financial disorder prevents or delays execution of Germany's financial obligations the experts provide automatic installation of strict control by the allies which would be vested with extended powers over the treasury by the Reich.

In connection with the Ruhr the experts consider economic re-establishment of Germany can be durable only on one condition to the economic unity of the country must be entirely re-established.

Without solving the question of military occupation of the Ruhr the experts indicate that it will be necessary for Germany to resume free disposal of customs and state industries like forests coal mining and railroads in the territories occupied by French troops. The railroad system of the Ruhr and Rhineland would be under special supervision of an allied representative in order to assure normal traffic and security for French troops.

Under the proposed reduced annual payments Germany would apply on the reparation account the first year 1,000,000,000 gold marks raised by means of an international loan of 800,000,000 gold marks plus 200,000,000 from the Verkehrsamt or transportation tax.

The second and third years she would pay 200,000,000 gold marks the fourth year 1,750,000,000 and the fifth 2,450,000,000 and so on.

From the sixth year the reparation commission would exact supplements in addition to the foregoing of 2,450,000,000 marks would be thus obtained.

From budget receipts 1,500,000,000

From transportation tax and railroad receipts 660,000,000

From mortgage on industries 300,000,000

The railroads of the Reich would be transferred for fifty years to a company with 25,000,000,000 gold marks capital composed of 2,000,000,000 in preferred stock one-quarter of which would be sold for the benefit of the government 12,000,000,000 in ordinary stock with dividends depending on the company's prosperity and 11,000,000,000 in privileged bonds at 6 per cent five per cent of which would go out as interest and the remaining one per cent go into a sinking fund insuring repayment 37 years after the fourth year.

The bonds to be handed to the reparation commission would yield 660,000,000 gold marks annually after the fourth year. The commission would be allowed to offer its bonds on the international markets and thus rapidly realize some 10,000,000,000 gold marks.

In connection with the mortgage on industries, the report says the news paper points out that the German

CIRCUS HERE TOMORROW TO SHOW ON OLD FAIR LOT

The elephants and pink bennies will hold forth in Danville tomorrow in the occasion of the visit of Sparks three-ring circus which will give two performances on the old fair grounds. It had been planned to rear the tents on the Wilson lot but this decision was changed since the original announcement was made.

The circus trains are due to arrive from Salisbury early in the morning and the parade is expected to swing in the city circuit of half past ten o'clock. One of the features of the circus will be a calliope which is to be audible for a distance of miles without the use of the earful publicity man says of radiophones.

Chief of Police Bell has arranged for traffic men to be in the vicinity of the circus to assist in the circulation of motor traffic which probably will be done just prior to and after the two performances.

The programme for the day and the route of the parade is as follows:

4:00 p.m.—Circus train due to arrive from Salisbury on the Southern all day.

4:30 p.m.—Unloader and removal of tents, paraphernalia, wagons and all, etc. to the circus grounds.

5:00 p.m.—Arrival of circus dressing room.

Private Corporation to Make Offer to Agricultural Committee

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—A new bid for Muscle Shoals will be presented probably today before the Senate Agriculture Committee by James T. Lloyd, a Washington attorney, formerly representative from Missouri on behalf of a private corporation.

This bid described by Mr. Lloyd as a compromise between government and private operations provides for the lease of Muscle Shoals proposed for fifty years and other provisions somewhat similar to the Ford offer including the manufacture of nitrates.

The new offer would provide for direct supervision over the property by the department of agriculture.

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 8.—Wage increase of five per cent affecting approximately 500,000 employees of 31 railroads and subsidiaries, representing 90 per cent of the mileage west of Chicago are reported to have been agreed upon last night as a result of negotiations since March 19th between representatives of the roads and the Association of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The reported increase would add nearly $50,000,000 annually to the payrolls of the railroads which are reported to have agreed to the new contract. Passenger trainmen would receive an increase of 24 cents a day, freight trainmen 30 cents conductors 33 cents brakemen 26 cents and switch tenders 26 cents. Other employees affected would receive corresponding increases.

Deny Marvin Spoke In Behalf of the Tariff Commission

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The Tariff Commission issued a formal statement today denying that Chairman Marvin spoke in behalf of the commission in testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee recently on the McNary-Haugen agricultural export bill.

The chairman made it perfectly plain and the committee well understood what was said by him was not in any way intended to express the views of either the commission.

As a result of Mr. Marvin's appearance before the committee, an impression gained ground in some quarters that the commission itself was opposed to the message and some criticism was forthcoming. Mr. Marvin's associates on the commission objected to the claim that the statement was made.

YOUTH, 17, HELD IN DEATH OF GIRL, 14

BY HAROLD MATSON
NEA Service Staff Writer.

CHICOPPEE, Mass., April 8.—Sophie Cuper had one more bottle of milk to deliver before school. She would have to run. But death, in its most brutal form, crossed her path.

Stanley Zalesky, the reform school boy, sat on the steps of his back porch. He was alone. His mother and father were gone to the mill. His brother and sister were gone to school. The day ahead promised nothing but idleness. The silent emptiness of his house filled him with a strange sense of frustration of restlessness.

Then he saw Sophie, the girl who delivered the milk of her father's cows to neighbors in the Willimansett section.

Sophie and her sister played together. She was three years younger than he. But she was pretty and she looked older than 14.

"Sophie!" Stanley suddenly found himself calling to her. "Sophie! my sister is in the house. She wants you to wait for her. Come in."

Sophie hesitated. There was that bottle of milk to deliver. So she could wait one minute. So she crossed the back yard and entered the Zalesky house. Stanley followed her in.

Then according to Stanley's written confession to Chicopee police, he tried to kiss Sophie. The girl ran from him, calling to his sister.

There was no answer. The house was empty—except for Stanley and herself.

Sophie, retreating from Stanley, ran down the stairs to the cellar, her only escape. But Stanley ran after her. And in the cellar, where police are picking up bits of bloodstained evidence, Stanley cornered the girl again.

Remorse, fear for the consequences of his crime, made his mind a panic. A wood pile was used by, and he reached for a club. At the police tell his story, he struck the girl into unconsciousness. He thought she was dead.

Witnesses corroborate Stanley's story that he hauled a sled from his home to the Connecticut river. On the sled was a roll of carpet.

Was Sophie's body wrapped in the carpet?

The police believe so and they are dragging the river for the body.

Sophie has been missing since April 2. When her mother appealed to police a day after Sophie's disappearance, their investigation of neighbors soon led them to hold Stanley. Arrested, he readily confessed, and took officers to the scene of the murder, and over the trail, following traces of bashed runners to the spot on the river where he says he threw the carpet.

Then the boy who had nothing to do one day, was arraigned on a charge of having murdered Sophie Cuper. He was just recently released from the State reform school at Shirley.

John Barrymore, in "Beau Brummel," attracts a tremendous business at the Strand, and the film is being held over. We have one objection to it, and that is not "Beau Brummel." Warner Brothers who produced the picture, apparently are not overly fond of spending money. In one scene, the Prince of Wales is supposed to be strolling on the Mall, famous London street.

We didn't recognize the park in the picture, but it looked suspiciously like an ordinary municipal park in Los Angeles. Almost any other producer would have built a reproduction of the Mall, to carry out the illusion. We are thrown from the period of George III, to the modern day, and it comes somewhat as a jolt.

Weekly Scandal

A high compliment has been paid to the movie "Anna Christie." Board of censors of Englewood, N. J., have given it an art rating. Many films are produced that are about as artistic as traveling carnivals. An entire profession should not be condemned because of them. An exceptional picture often comes unheralded. It slips in unnoticed. And such a picture is "The Enchanted Cottage," starring Richard Barthelmess and Mary McAvoy.

The picture places John Robertson in a class by himself as a director. Robertson is a true artist, and hisimitable work shows plainly in "The Enchanted Cottage."

We attended a pre-release showing of this picture the other day in the Plaza-Carlton Hotel. Never have we seen a movie that throbs with life as this one does. Barthelmess and Miss McAvoy project their thoughts from the screen; they are living, breathing human beings, not silent shadows.

For those not familiar with the picture play, suffice it to say that "The Enchanted Cottage" tells the story of a crippled ex-soldier and an extremely homely girl, who fall in love with each other.

So great is their love that neither can see the ugliness of the other. Only towards the end of the film do Mr. Barthelmess and Miss McAvoy appear without make-up. Miss McAvoy's make-up is astonishing. We are told that she did her own make-up.

"Cap Collier" Faces Greatest Adventure

By ISRAEL KLEIN

TROY, O., April 8.—"Cap Collier" is facing the greatest adventure in a little while room in the hospital ward at the Miami County Poorhouse here, the final chapter is being written now.

"The idol of hundreds of thousands of boys of yesterday is dying!" Thomas C. Harbaugh, whom the youth of the last generation knew only as "Cap Collier," dime novel hero, lies in his bed a hopeless paralytic.

Death, the doctors say, is a matter of just a few days—a few weeks at the most.

But "Cap Collier" is ready.

Defends Dime Novels
"There is nothing for me to live for," he says. "I have always lived a religious life, so I am ready for the hereafter. I have no idea what it is like, but I am not afraid."

"The old adventure stories were not very good, I admit," he continued, after a pause for breath. "But they were better than the silly love stories the boys of today are reading."

"The life of the boys of yesterday was far more picturesque than the life of the boys today."

Once Saw New Orleans

"Then we read adventure and we lived adventure. Today our boys dash away their time reading thin love stories. And they miss the old adventure entirely. The experiences they do meet are nothing compared with the hustling adventures in the lives of the boys of the past."

"Cap Collier" paused. A fresh breath and he went on:

"I have had only one adventure never believed a beautiful girl could make herself so ugly.

When several months ago, we journeyed to the studio to watch Mr. Robertson film "The Enchanted Cottage," we noticed how the man works. Like many other directors we know Robertson puts his whole soul in his art. He is ably helped by his wife, Josephine Lovett, who writes the continuity. Together they worked in their world of make-believe.

"The Enchanted Cottage" will not thrill you if you prefer see plays. It will not make a dent in your interest if you like spectacles. But if you are satisfied with a simple tale, told in a human, sympathetic way, then the picture will make an impression it will take years to wear away. It is another "Miracle Man."

John Barrymore, in "Beau Brummel," attracts a tremendous business at the Strand, and the film is being held over. We have one objection to it, and that is not "Beau Brummel." Warner Brothers who produced the picture, apparently are not overly fond of spending money.

Outside of a trip to Philadelphia, that was about the only time "Cap Collier" ever strayed away from his native Caststown. He never was in the far west. Nor was he in Europe. Yet they furnished the background for most of his tales.

One Love Affair

Harbaugh admitted he never really had a love affair—save one in his early boyhood.

"I do not recall a single woman in my life," he continued.

"But I do remember little Ida Marquis. She was a girl of my own age, who went to school with me, and chummed around with me. I really did love her."

"She left us though when we were just kids. She died when she was 16.

After that I was so busy writing that I never thought of love."

"Cap Collier," now 75, estimates he wrote more than 65 novels. He received $150 for a $15,000-word dime novel and $75 for a $7,500-word "half dime" novel.

He quit writing three years ago when he was 72.

"I should like to write again," he declares, "but my hands—here he whose fingers he could not move—won't let me."

EARLY COURT LIFE OF HALIFAX TOLD IN OLD RECORD S. BOSTON NEWS

(Special to The Bee.)

SOUTH BOSTON, April 8.—There is a wonderful wealth of valuable information hidden away in the old court records that would make most interesting reading matter, and at the same time give the reader an insight to the legal history of the different counties in the state. Halifax County has some treasures of this kind recorded in the archives of the court records, dating back to the year 1752. The record of the first court held in the county begins as follows: Halifax County, at Hilton's, the XXIst day of July, in the XVIIIth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord, King George the Second, and in the year of our Lord God MDCCLII. Present his Majesty's Justice, William Irby, Robert Wade, Andrew Wade and Hugh Moore, Gents.

Among the record of the proceedings of this court are found several items of particular interest and a few selections taken from the pages of Book No. I are given herewith. An indenture: In the petition of Evan Evans, setting forth that he is very old and not able to labour and praying to be set levy free. The same is granted him. In the petition of John East, setting forth that he is elderly and unable to labour and praying to be set levy free. The same is granted him. In the petition of George Wier, setting forth that he is in circumstances and very lame in body and praying to be set levy free. The same is granted him. In the petition of Andrew Wade praying that he be set levy free. For reasons appearing to the court his petition is rejected. On hearing the petition of John Upcott against Joseph Morton, for five hundred and fourteen pounds of tobacco, said to be due by account and the petitioner having proved his demand to be just by his own oath, judgment is granted him against the said defendant for the sum of five hundred and fourteen pounds of tobacco to be discharged at the rate of eighteen shilling per cent, together with his costs by him about his suit in that behalf expended and seven shillings and six pence for a lawyer's fee.

On the presentation of the Grand Jury for the body of this country against John Cannaday for blasphemous swearing, the Sheriff having returned that he had summoned the said defendant to answer the same and he not appearing, although solemnly called therefore it is considered by the court that he be fined five shillings or fifty pounds of tobacco (pursuant to the act of assembly in that case made and provided for) which the church wardens of the Parish Antir in this county wherein the said offence was committed may have due process of law together with the cost of these proceedings.

Alice Allen and Hannah Parsons, spinsters came into court and respectively acknowledged themselves guilty of having each a bastard child, where it is considered that they make fine by the payment of each of them fifty shillings or five hundred pounds of tobacco (pursuant to the act of assembly in that case made and provided for) and thereupon came Nathaniel Terry, Gent., who together with the members of the court now sitting, became securities for the payment of the fines aforesaid at the laying of the next levy for the Parish Antir in this county.

George Currie came into court and proposed to run a line from the mouth of Tow's Creek a due west course twenty-five miles up and to strike the center of the county as near as can be estimated and as the convenience of the water will admit of, at his own cost and charge and he will also at his own further cost and charge build a courthouse, prison, stocks and pillory as soon as conveniently he can, to which proposal the court agreed that the said George Currie do build a courthouse of the same size and dimensions Lunenburg Courthouse and a sufficient prison, stocks and pillory as soon as conveniently may be at the place where the said line shall terminate if the same should happen to be convenient to water, but if not that then the said George Currie shall be at liberty to carry the same any course to the first convenient place for water and that until the said buildings can be completed it is further ordered that the said George Currie do build a house at the place aforesaid fit for the reception of the court in January next November XXIst in the year of our Lord MDCCCLII. The records although they were written 172 years ago, are remarkable clear and legible. The spelling of course is after the English rules for spelling, and there is a marked difference in the style of penmanship then and now. The first two words in the beginning of the items are written in Old English. It is well worth while for anyone to go to the courthouse in their respective counties and look through the records of the early period of these counties.

The pastor and the appointed representatives of the Dan River Baptist Association met in session at the South Boston Baptist church on Main street, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock to lay plans and arrange to secure the balance of the association's assessment on the seventy million dollar campaign, during the remainder of this year. The Dan River Association subscribed $205,000.00 to be paid through a five year period, and $10,000.00 more than amount has already been paid. The South Boston Baptist church pledged $41,000 of this amount which is $16,000 more than its quota and has secured to date $11,000.00. They will pay their quota in full.

W. J. Kendrick of Richmond, Layman Secretary of the Baptist Board of Missions and Education, was the principal speaker, but all of the delegates took part in the discussion. ## INTEREST OF NATIONAL POLITICS CENTERS ON PRIMARIES IN MIDWEST

(By The Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., April 8.—President Calvin Coolidge and Senator William Johnson, of California, in a Statewide primary today are seeking Nebraska's endorsement for the presidential nomination, and the 19 delegates to the national convention. The name of no Democratic candidate for presidential preference appears on the ballots, but blank spaces have been left for voters to write in names.

Second in interest only to the Coolidge-Johnson contest is the fight between Senator George W. Norris, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Charles H. Sloan, former congressman for the Republican United States senatorial nomination.

FACTIONALISM APPEARS.

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, April 8.—Intense factionalism in the Illinois primaries appeared early in the balloting today in complaints from polling places. The arrest of the entire board of one Chicago precinct was ordered when it was charged that persons using fictitious names were acting as judges and clerks.

Other instances of unauthorized persons attempting to act as judges and clerks were reported.

BILIOITION IN ILLINOIS.

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, April 8.—Interest of national politics centered today on the Illinois primary in which President Coolidge and Senator William Johnson, of California, make their bid for sixteen delegates to the Republican National Convention. overshadowing the presidential preferential contest in that State, however, is the race between Governor Len Small and Thurlow G. Essington, State senator, for the gubernatorial nomination for the Republicans, which has developed possibly the bitterest factional struggle in the State's history.

William G. McAdoo, unopposed for the Democratic presidential preference is indirectly involved in the sharpest division in the Democratic ranks in recent years. A full slate of allowed McAdoo delegates is opposed by a solid array of non-preference delegates openly pledged to the leadership of George E. Brennan, State Democratic chieftain.

HOWARD CLARKE

DETROIT, April 8.—The experts, Le Matin says, considered the problem of how Germany can transfer such huge sums without upsetting the international financial market as more difficult than establishing how much and in what manner she should pay.

After a long study, they suggest the creation of a permanent committee of five commissioners, each being a specialist, with a president appointed by the reparations commission and accepted by the governments to direct this complicated and delicate operation.

DELIVER REPORT TOMORROW

(By The Associated Press.) PARIS, April 8.—The time of the official delivery to the reparation commission of the reports of both the expert committees—those headed respectively by Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes and Reginald Kenna—was definitely fixed today ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

DAVES TO LEAVE TOMORROW

PARIS, April 8.—Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the first reparation expert committee, plans to leave for Brussels tomorrow where he will see the Belgian minister of economics M. PARIS, April 8.—Arapart from the payment of rent despite their depreciation, French courts have ruled. ### Birthday Celebration

The happy birthday celebration, given Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Carrie Jones of Chatham, who is spending some time at Sunnyside Home, was beautifully arranged by the matron, at the request of Miss Jones' nephew, T. J. Payne, of Chicago, who requested Mrs. White, by telegram, to be his proxy in providing for a real birthday party that should be the happiest one on the calendar. The large living-room of the home was decorated with flowers and candles and filled with guests who came to bring gifts and greetings.

A birthday cake topped with candles and delicious ices in the prevailing shades of yellow and white to harmonize with the decorations, were served during the afternoon. Among the guests were: Mesdames Joseph M. Duglinson, Jessie Willeford, M. F. McKinsey, J. H. Shipp, of Crews; Misses Annie Kinsey, Helen Cook, Anna Cabiniss, and others.

In Honor Of Richmond Visitors

Miss Louise Burleigh, author and state-wide director of the pageant, "Signal Fires," Miss Edith Bagland, who will produce the local performance and Miss Agnes D. Randolph, all of Richmond, will be guests of the Danville Nurses Club at dinner to-night at 7 o'clock in the tea room of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Randolph, of the department of tuberculosis, State Board of Health, who is in the city to arrange for the summer clinics, is also chairman of the Foundation Fund Committee of the Graduate Nurses Association of Virginia, which is putting on the pageant for the double purpose of acquainting the public with the genesis and development of the nursing and to help raise the $50,000 pledged by the association for the endowment of a chair of nursing at the University of Virginia.

"Signal Fires" will be given simultaneously in this city, Richmond, Norfolk, Charlottesville, Lynchburg, Alexandria, Staunton on May 12, the birthday of Florence Nightingale, and Mr. F. L. Douthat is general chairman for Danville. The committee emphasizes that the movement is for an endowment and when the $50,000 is raised there will be no further appeal. The income from this amount, it is stated, will be used solely for salaries.

The pageant is divided into four speaking parts, three symbolic dances and twenty tableaux and it is planned that insofar as is possible social and civic organizations in all the cities where it is to be produced shall each be responsible for one dance or tableau of their local performance, bearing the trifling cost of costumes. These will be of the most inexpensive material and many of the characters will call for the uniforms of the various branches of nursing.

HOWARD GUERRANT PULLS OUT OF MAYORALTY RACE

G. Howard Guerrant, who some six months ago let it be known that he would be a candidate for the mayorality in the regular election in June, has reconsidered his plans and has now announced that owing to a business contract into which he had entered he did not deem it expedient to undertake anything that might conflict with or be incompatible with these business plans. Mr. Guerrant stated that more than seven hundred qualified voters of the city had offered their support.

Soon after the informal announcement of his candidacy, Mr. Guerrant's friends or a large group of them held a meeting at which it was planned to organize a Guerrant Club, but owing to Mr. Guerrant's absence from the city at the time, further steps in pursuance of that plan were deferred. So far as can be ascertained, no other meeting for that purpose was ever held.

The retirement of Mr. Guerrant leaves the field to Mayor Wooding for many years city executive and now in his eighth year. The salary of the dual position of mayor and police justice, with the fees appertaining to the latter office, make the position a desirable one, and it is not regarded as likely that Captain Wooding will be unopposed. No primary having been held there yet a full month before the expiration of the time for

This conclusion I have reached, with due appreciation of your expression of confidence but feel that business interests rather than my own personal inclination should control my decision.

Again assuring you of my sincere appreciation, I am,

Most Respectfully,
G. H. GUERRANT.

BODIES OF CUMMINS COUPLE BE CREMATED AS WAS REQUESTED

(By the Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Va., April 5.—Loser in a two-thousand-mile race with death, John L. Pendleton, of Talala, Oklahoma, reached Richmond late yesterday to greet his half-sister, Mrs. Tula Cummins, before she died last night, second victim of a suicide compact into which she had entered with her husband, a local insurance broker and club man.

Pendleton, who rushed half way across the continent, beginning a 48 hour train when he heard of the wounding of his half sister and the death of Holmes Cummins in their apartment here, will accompany Walter G. Holmes, cousin of the man to Washington tomorrow to attend final disposition of remains of the dead couple. Complying with the expressed wishes of both husband and wife, the bodies will be cremated.

Cummins, member of a prominent Memphis, Tenn., family, had been in ill health for several years. Unhappy because of this and his wife determined to end their lives together, the woman told officers before she died in a local hospital. Behind, locked down, Mrs. Cummins fired a bullet into her left breast and passed the weapon to her husband who killed himself with a shot through the head, according to her story. Twelve hours later police broke in the door to find her still alive, her husband's body doubled in a corner.

Mrs. Cummins formerly contributed short stories to a number of popular magazines under the pen name of "T. D. Pendleton."

PETERSBURG, Va., April 7.—W. G. Longmire, former member of the police force of this city, but now a resident of Hopewell, has been arrested in connection with the robbery of $37,000 from the baggage car of the "Cannon Ball" train on December 28, making the fourth person to be taken into custody in connection with the bold holdup. Longmire was taken into custody in Hopewell by officers of that city. He is being held in the city jail there on a Prince George county warrant.

The hearing of Reynolds, was scheduled to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock before Magistrate J. E. Cousins in Prince George county but Commonwealth's Attorney F. Coker, of Prince George, will ask that it be continued to April 16th. In order that Detectives McGhee and Avery, two important witness for the prosecution, can return from New Mexico with Mahout and his wife. This probably will be done, and Longmire, along with Mahout, will probably be given a hearing at the same time Reynolds is.

U. S. TO PARTICIPATE IN DRUG CONFERENCE

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—American participation in two international conferences in this year for the control of the drug traffic was authorized by the House.

Futile attempts were made to reduce the $30,000,000 appropriation carried in the authorization resolution, which was introduced by Chairman Porter of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Representative Lathicum, Democrat, Maryland, stated he was in favor of the resolution because it was another step toward the recognition of the League of Nations "whose hospitality America enjoys without the right of voting."

The resolution was sent to the Senate by a viva voce vote.

Graduate Recital at R. M. I. Enjoyed

The second graduation recital of the current scholastic year at the Randolph-Macon Institute was that last night in which Miss Mayvine Layne, graduate in the voice department, Miss Elizabeth Eva Owens, graduate in piano, and Miss Alice Elizabeth White, a well known soprano, all graduate in expression. An audience large numerically and appreciative proportionately gave many manifestations of approval and pleasure and warmly applauded the three graduates, whose contributions made up a well balanced and happily varied entertainment with an appeal to the cultural classes.

Miss Layne, a pupil of Mrs. Laura J. Fussell, opened the recital with three delightful song-bits, including "Moonlight," by Cadman; "Rose," by Whitney Coombs, and "Ardit's" delightful "Il Bacio." Later she sang a Camindade number, "The Silver Ring" and del Acuña's Vilanelle. In the second part of the program she sang "Who's Who?" only number with "Who Knows?" a charming bit of melody by Stricker. Miss Layne has a voice of good natural quality, which has been effectively trained, and her work last night in all her numbers was not only enjoyable but was marked by artistic qualities. Her singing of the Thomas aria "Connais Tu le Pays," was a highly enjoyable melody, with violin obligato.

Miss Owens, a pupil of Miss Hallie B. McMillian, gave a difficult program, which like that of all the piano graduates of the Institute closed with a brilliant concerto number, Allegro Vivace, which is characterized immediately by a lightning-like melody and great vivacity, and the finish rendition of which calls for rapid finger work and experience in piano performance. Her teacher played the orchestra parts on another piano.

Miss White, a pupil of Miss Hallie B. McMillian, gave a difficult program, which like that of all the piano graduates of the Institute closed with a brilliant concerto number, Allegro Vivace, which is characterized immediately by a lightning-like melody and great vivacity, and the finish rendition of which calls for rapid finger work and experience in piano performance. Her teacher played the orchestra parts on another piano.

Miss Layne's first number was Beethoven's Allegro Vivace from Beethoven No. 3 sonata, 31st work. This was of the same general type as her concerto number and was given a brilliant rendition. On her second number she had two Chopin numbers, the Nocturne in F. sharp, and his ballad-like Mazurka, the charming Liebestraume No. 3, or Frane Liszt, and the beautiful Wieniawski Valse de Concert. Miss Owens' rendition of her Chopin numbers was especially creditable and merited the plaudits she won.

Miss White, a student of Miss Wood in the expression department, opened her part of the program with "Barcarolle." Delightful and to the entire part of the program she gave a charming reading of Jerome's "Fenella," a fine test of her ability in the interpretation of honor. Her rendering of both numbers was warmly acclaimed and she won congratulations from many.

"For a thousand years Lucifer, the devil, has been contending with Christ, the Savior, for the souls of men and women in this world Christ has met him face to face in the wilderness and conquered. We may conquer in the name of Christ."

Moths don't make moth-holes

Moth larvae do the damage

The flying moth is as harmless as any household pet. It does nothing but lay a few hundred eggs in your woolen things and then die. Then the eggs hatch—in a few days or in several weeks.

The eggs hatch into tiny worms, called larvae. The larvae know only one menu—wool. They eat busily—they make the moth-holes . . . But wool that has been Larvexed is positively indestructible to the larvae. They won't touch it—they die if they do.

No moth-holes.

Stop chasing moths

It's the moth larvae that eat the holes

But Larvex—stops them

No longer any need for the family to mobilize every time a moth appears on the scene. Don't go around smashing moths and furniture. Flying moths don't make the moth-holes you dread. It's the tiny larvae, hatched out of the moth-eggs, that eat patterns in your coats and suits and rugs and hangings.

Stop their operations the new, scientific way. Use Larvex!

Apply Larvex to everything woolen and the job is done. No packing, no odors, no stains. Larvex is a colorless, non-inflammable liquid that makes the fabric absolutely indestructible to the larvae, without affecting it in any other way. When the larvae come out of their eggs and look around for agreeable food, they simply don't find any.

Thousands of retailers are selling clothing, knit-goods, blankets, furniture, carpets, rugs, etc., that are moth-proofed by the Larvex Process. Look for the Larvex certificate of guarantee when buying any article subject to moth damage. Larvex comes in pint and quart bottles with an atomizer for household use. It is sold by drug, furniture, and department stores. Pints, $1; pints with atomizer, $1.75; quarts, $1.50; quarts with atomizer, $2.25.

Use Larvex—never worry about finding moth-holes. You never will!

A Busy Week For Diamond Follower

(By Lawrence Perry)

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)

NEW YORK, April 8.—The success of the indoor track season undoubtedly reflected the gathering enthusiasm over the coming Olympics. So is even greater measure are the coming outdoor field meetings expected to benefit by the great international events in Paris in July.

It is for example already a foregone conclusion that the famous Pennsylvania relays will be characterized not by a vast entry list—as fact, nearly a hundred colleges in various parts of the country are already entered, but by splendid quality.

The victory of the University of Michigan's two mile relay team at the University of Illinois relays demonstrated that glowing reports of the quartet of half milers which the Maiso and Blue have developed were not exaggerated.

In fact, in view of all that has been said about the Wolverines, their victory was not surprising. But Northwestern, unheralded so far at least as the East was concerned, certainly did furnish a surprise by crowding Michigan in the twomile relay and there may be no doubt they will be heard from at Franklyn field the last of this month.

Georgetown, winner of the Eastern inter-collegiate indoor two mile relay event, will take a lot of beating from any quartet and Boston College is nearly as good.

Rounding this galaxy with a team from England, representing Cambridge University that promises to approach stellar magnitude, the outlook for thrills in this great twomile feature is altogether promising. As for the mile relay, the Yale team promises to break the world's record.

HAS GREAT CURVE BALL

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 8.—For the third time since he retained his world's 18th ball line billiard championship in the international tournament last year, Willie Hoppe will be called upon to defend his crown in a match beginning tonight and continuing tomorrow and Thursday, against Edouard Horwitz, of Belgrade, at the Hotel Pennsylvania. The battle will be for 150 points, blocks of 50 being played each night.

If Hoppe defeats Horwitz he will not have to defend his title again until the 1924 international tournament.

These two high school runners, Ernest and David Latham, are twins and, like most twins, are hard to tell apart. Both are runners and are gaited about alike. In a recent race the two led the field and it became a contest of brother against brother. The finish was so close the judges called it a dead heat and left the decision to the brothers themselves. They run for the Lowell (Mass.) High School.

More People Ride But Car Receipts Show Decrease

While 934 more people rode Danville street cars for a nickel yesterday than did for seven cents on the same day two weeks ago, the company derived $73.32 less under the reduced fare, statistics on the second day of the experiment revealed today. The Danville Traction and Power Company is operating on a five-cent fare for ten days to see if this inducement will impel greater patronage.

The first two days of the experiment have not been altogether encouraging since the receipts instead of increasing have shown a drop.

Street car conductors report that the riding public is holding to the seven cent tokens which normally represent 65 per cent of the day's receipts and are paying cash. Thursday is expected to see a drop in patronage for the local mills are running only three days in the week and the big loads journeying out to Schoolfield early in the morning will not be in evidence on that day.

The statistics for yesterday issued at the office of the street car company are as follows:

Vandalism Seen at Chinqua Penn Farm

(Special to The Bee)

REIDSVILLE, N. C., April 8.—The Rockingham county authorities have so far been unable to determine responsibility for vandalism done in a dairy barn of the Chinqua Penn farm owned by Jefferson Penn near here. Some person unknown entered the large barn during the night and slashed several belts moving the dairy machinery. Martinsville bloodhounds were taken to the scene and followed a trail in the direction of Leasville but no one was arrested. The affair is still great mystery.

The development of the Penn home is continuing the foundations for the house which promises to be a showplace in this section being in course of preparation on the hill commanding a magnificent view. Landscape gardeners have had the grounds in charge for some time and walls have been laid out and hundreds of rose bushes have been planted. The grounds have been fenced in. The quaint hunting lodge of rough hewn stone and timber is virtually completed and is almost mediaeval in appearance. The dairy is probably the most modern and up-to-date in this section and is flanked by pretty rustic homes for the dairy workers. Hundreds of people visit the development on the Wentworth road each Sunday.

School Board Will Meet Tonight; May O. K. School Site

The schoolboard will hold its regular monthly meeting at eight o'clock tonight in the board room at Rison Park School. At this meeting action is expected to be taken on a report to be presented by the ways and means committee which for two weeks has been meeting and discussing matters vital to the school board issue to be voted on next June. It is expected also that at tonight's meeting, April 29th, will be the date set for the election of city school teachers who number about 100. The Ways and Means Committee is to hold a final meeting this afternoon at five o'clock, at which time it is expected that an agreement will be reached on the site for the new junior high school. Nothing has been made public regarding the several sites which are in view, but it is reliably learned that the committee leans to a site in the rapidly developing west-end section. One of the sites which has been discussed is the Grassy property lying between Wilson Street and Loyall Street, but it has been held that this is too near the business section for a junior high school.

Annual Meeting of Post "I" T. P. A.

Post "I" met in annual session on April 2, in the Municipal building for the purpose of electing officers and delegates to the State Convention, which meets in Norfolk May 2nd and 3rd.

A large number of the members were present and the report of the secretary and president showed that the local post to be in good progressive condition with a membership of one hundred and fifteen members. T. H. Self, secretary of the local post, outlined some of the work of the national organization to better the condition of the travelling public. During the last congress, the T. P. A. succeeded in getting very favorable action on a bill compelling the railroads to place on sale interchangeable mileage books at a 20 per cent discount.

The Interstate Commerce Commission gave a favorable ruling, but an injunction gotten out by the railroads has the matter temporarily held up, but the T. P. A. however, feel confident of a final victory.

The T. P. A. are also working to have a Peoria surtax removed in several states. This has been done by state legislatures, and the matter of making it a national ruling is now before the Interstate Commerce Commission with prospects of a favorable ruling in the near future.

U. S. MAKES JUAREZ 9-O'CLOCK TOWN

HERE'S THE HOG WIRE GATE ON THE INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE CONNECTING EL PASO, TEX. AND JUAREZ, MEX., WHICH MADE "THE WICKEDEST CITY" A 9-O'CLOCK TOWN.

THE CALLE DEL DIABLO — STREET OF THE DEVIL — ALONG WHICH MANY OF JUAREZ'S RESORTS ARE LOCATED.

EL PASO, Tex., April 8.—Prohibition laws and the American constitution have not authority across the Rio Grande.

But United States customs men have made a 9-o'clock town out of that border city, on the other side of that border river. They did it with a hog wire gate.

The gate is at the center of the rickety old wooden International Bridge that spans the Rio Grande.

Every night at 9 the customs men swing shut the gate. Americans in Juarez, the "wickedest city," cannot come home. And Americans in El Paso, thirsty and ready for naughty adventure, cannot cross the line.

Quiet by 9

The hog-wire gate has had a deadening effect on the gambling halls, the cabarets and dance halls.

The Calle del Diablo, "the Street of the Devil"—is as quiet as Main street of Gopher Prairie, by 11.

Here and there are a couple of Mexican cabaret employees, homeward bound, or a little group of Americans who ignored the curfew bell that rings before the hog-wire gate is swung shut.

Business is poor at the Hotel Rio Bravo. There are plenty of rooms there now. A month ago a room was difficult to get.

TIVOLI EMPTY

The Tivoli gambling house biggest of all, tried to ignore the gate on the bridge, tried to continue business as usual. And at 9 p. m. the two roulette tables, 20 feet long, each with four playing boards are empty, although two weeks ago one could hardly get near enough to drop a coin on them.

The man at the craps table whistles.

"Three O'clock in the Morning," and the two-score employees and the six customers applaud. A few weeks ago the hundreds in the place ignored a gun fight at the front door—so engrossed were they with their games.

In Pike's California Bar at 10 o'clock the girls and the barkeepers are sitting on the bar. They are percentage girls and when a straggle happens in, five rush to him.

"Buy me a drink, dearie," they plead.

"I'm a stranger in town," the straggler replies. "I only enough money for a room and to get back to El Paso. And I must pay a dollar for a bottle of beer when I will find one of you girls."

"Oh, you don't know. It will cost only 25 cents for a little drink. Uncle Sam's hog-wire fence has even cut the cost of beer 300 percent. In Juarez after 9 p. m.

The Central and Big Kid Cabarets are closing their doors at 8:45. And by 10:15 the Central, Annex Toltec Club, Gem, Jimmie O'Brien's, Stage Mint and Rio Bravo bar-rooms are in darkness.

screen career. It is an actual fact that for six months he couldn't even get a job as a spear carrier in a movie mob. And being the eldest of a family of eight brothers—not to mention two sisters—in Durango, Mexico, it will be seen that his film career did not begin any too auspiciously.

But his performance in "The Prisoner of Zenda," was so effective that he was immediately re-engaged by Ingram for "Trifling Women," and later "Where the Pavement Ends," in which he delighted the feminine portion of every audience and made the masculine theatre-goers gangrenous with envy. His latest role in "Scaramouche" promises to outdo his triumphs in former performances by a wide margin. And with Rudolph Valentino, touring in a pantomime comedy show, Novarro awoke one morning to find himself the great lover that Rudolph had imagined himself to be.

TOMMY—What's the use? I can't draw. So I don't go—Answers (London)

Their letters tell the story.

This Mexican youth, whose real name is Ramon Samanigos, was groomed to take the place of Rudolph Valentino by Rex Ingram, who engaged him a couple of seasons back for the role in "The Prisoner of Zenda." At that time Novarro was a humble "extra" in Hollywood, having deserted the ballroom floors for a six-week engagement in a pantomime show. Novarro awoke one morning to find that he had been promoted to the lead role in "The Prisoner of Zenda," and he had to learn his lines in a hurry.

At one stage Sand's work became so terrible that Fletcher had to take him out of the lineup and use Parkinson, the utility man.

SPRING

Spring is in the air. "Swell dressers" along Fifth Avenue in New York are blossoming forth in gray—which is to be the smart color for men, stylish tailors say.

Lloyd's insurance agency is betting that one that England will have a beautiful spring, with rain not more than one day in five this spring and summer. If England, with a notoriously wretched climate, has that in store, delightful weather must be stated for us.

Play ball!

Buyers of liquor hereafter will be prosecuted in Hartford, Conn. This attitude, say officers of the law, is based on the Connecticut statute which holds that any one assisting, aiding or abetting in the commission of a crime is equally guilty with the principal.

It's true that a bootlegger's customer incites to crime by furnishing the incentive—profit.

However, the public might voluntarily show more respect for prohibition if some of the attention directed at small violators were devoted to the whales. By the way, what has come of the beer and light wines we were "going to get shortly" for several years past?

DEMS

A kind-hearted Democrat has bought $75,000 worth of theater tickets to distribute among delegates to the Dem national convention in New York. He took all the orchestra seats for Fred Stone's show, "Stepping Stones," during the month of June.

We trust some kind-hearted Republican will do as well for his flock in Cleveland. It's only fair that the nominating conventions, which will furnish so much entertainment for the nation, should have entertainment in turn. It will require quite a sense of humor to take politics seriously this year, in view of the various investigations.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon

NEW YORK, April 8.—Nearly all people want something cheerful. This is as true of Wall Street as it is of the rest of the country. Something light is preferred. Right now everyone is hoping for wonderful results from the market. The results have been giving it a lot of publicity. The forecasts of the expert have the place of honor on the front page. But this morning there appears a foreign news item of unusual importance and it is even a very inconspicuous place on an inside page among a lot of ads. There was an election in Bavaria and the result was in favor of the monarchists who made big gains with general landlords as the great hero.

Do you know the meaning of all this? Don't treat it as a place where most people wouldn't notice it.

I notice a variety of excuse for the decline in the market yesterday. But no one appears to mention the real reason which is that there is nothing to buy stocks at the present time.
